

Your body may occasionally quit on you.

Your spirit may occasionally quit on you.

Rest assured, however, we will never quit on you.

Find your strength.

Rehabilitation isn't just about getting better. It's about getting stronger.

That's why every one of the doctors, nurses, therapists and other professionals in the Spaulding Rehabilitation Network is committed to helping patients and their families move forward—physically and emotionally—so they can get back to living life to the fullest.

As a national leader in rehabilitative care, we offer some of the most advanced and comprehensive services available. Spaulding Rehabilitation Hospital Boston is the official teaching hospital of the Harvard Medical School Department of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation (PM&R), so we frequently lead the way in new research and technologies.

Teamwork is everything.

Helping patients get back on track after an illness or injury takes an interdisciplinary approach. While our physicians, nurses, therapists and other medical professionals work closely to coordinate each patient's care, the most important participants of all are patients and their families. That is why we are committed to keeping them educated, involved and inspired on the journey to recovery.

You will find this commitment across the entire Spaulding Rehabilitation Network, which includes hospitals, outpatient clinics and skilled nursing facilities throughout Eastern Massachusetts. At all of them, you'll find a consistently outstanding level of care. You'll find highly trained and dedicated staff. Most important, you'll find people and resources dedicated to helping patients and families find their strength.

"That's the great thing about Spaulding. You don't have to be a professional football player or a Super Bowl champion to get the best care. You get the best care when you are admitted into that hospital and you're a patient. Period. You get the best care."
